Subject: Thank you

Jamie & Laura,

PS – I started writing this note in January and was hoping to have gotten this to you way before now. What can I say? I am a very slow!

I hope you don't find this typed letter too impersonal. It's meant for efficiency; as sifting through my penmanship would only waste time. Also, I sent this via email for similar reasons.

I know we've all descended into our crazy and busy lives after enjoying an awesome time in Utah. But before the Utah vacation got too far into the rear view mirror (Best intentions) I wanted to take the time to sincerely thank you for having us all join you and your Family on this 'very fancy' trip. This is an experience that I know I would never have had the fortune to have without your gracious generosity. The bonus part of the trip, which cannot be valued, is the time we all get to spend with each other. I've heard Cynthia say it so I don't claim to be unique, but I am a believer. The inspiring by-product of your generosity is that everyone gets to form a bond. The soul is imprinted with memories formed and shared and for those memories you both have given, I'm truly grateful. You have created that for your children and ours and I wanted to thank you.

Thank for the having us down to Cayman. I don't think I have recently laughed harder than playing the celebrity game with you all! Oh, and the jet was pretty cool too! It's one of the limited times in my life where I feel that I have gained some time back.

Sincerely,

Brian
